

WELCOME

Elizabeth J. Cottages are informal, yet elegant. These two-bedroom, cozy, private cottages are unique replicas of the 1800s Salt Box and Steep Gable Roof houses which were once a common sight along the rugged shores of Newfoundland.

While only a 10 minute stroll to Bonavista's historic center, the vision for Elizabeth J. Cottages came from the belief that we could all benefit from a simpler pace of life away from the beaten track. As one client put it,

"If you can't find yourself here you won't find yourself anywhere."

Whether you are looking for a relaxing retreat by a cozy fire or hiking with fabulous views and photo opportunities, you will discover secluded warmth in a place you truly belong.

Each cottage, with its fireplace surrounded by window seats, sits on top of a cliff and offers spectacular views of the Atlantic Ocean, icebergs, whales and sunsets.

The unbearable beauty of Mother Nature can be witnessed from every window. Whales, icebergs are common sights in front of the cottages. Elizabeth J.'s photo (left) captures the beauty of a sunset from the private deck.

Indulge your senses with a Jacuzzi bath and luxurious towels, and then slip into a queen-size sleigh bed with Egyptian cotton sheets, feather bed and duvet while the ocean roars right outside your window.

A path along the front of the cottages leads to a private beach and continues along the rugged coastline where each season displays its own unique beauty. No matter the season, the views entice you to participate in the many outdoor activities.

The history, luxury, time standing ever so still except for the roar of the ocean at one's feet.
